ORGANIZED CONFUSION

The leaves are changing colors, baseball season is over, the weather is getting colder, and yes I am still wearing shorts. A New Englander through and through, I just can't put them away yet for the winter - call them my security blanket. If you haven't been around the studio lately, it's been an exciting and thrilling couple of months here at the FCTV World Headquarters. If you have a couple of minutes, read on and find out what you've been missing.

COMPIX - We have a new graphics system for Control Room A and it's called Compix. For those that have been using the Scala Amiga for a long time, you're going to be blown away with the capabilities of this program. Backgrounds, color schemes, the interface, fonts - this program is flashier and allows more creativity when it comes to the look and feel of your studio production. A LIVE edition of Falmouth First was the first show to use the new program and besides some learning considerations here and there, everyone likes it. Look for the new graphics on all studio programs. If you're looking for classes on Compix, check the training schedule for information.

STUDIO A CHECKOUT/SUNDAY CLASSES - We have a slightly new rule when it comes to checking out of the studio after a shoot. We have a new Studio A Check Out List. After a shoot and you've finished cleaning up, the producer and/or director must find a staff person who will walk through the production areas to make sure everything is cleaned up and put away. Your reservation is not considered complete until this is done. Thank you, in advance, for your cooperation in this matter. On the flip side, we are now running Sunday classes once again. For those of you that can't make it out at night, or don't want to, you can now learn all the gadgets and gizmos like everyone else. If you're interested, round up some friends and it'll be easier to fill a class that way. Call me here at the studio for more info and how to get into one of these classes pronto.

TOWN MEETING - Because of Victoria's deadlines, I am writing this well before the November Town Meeting, but I want to thank everyone, members and staff alike, that helped make this all-encompassing shoot just as successful as, if not more than, the previous ones have been. Without your production support, we would not have been able to bring this essential form of local government to the viewers of Falmouth. Consider yourselves heroes of democracy!

HOLIDAY PARTY - As I am sure you're aware, our 2005 Holiday Party is rapidly approaching (December 14th). From someone who has only been to one, let me assure you what a good time this party will turn out to be. It's going to be a night of fun, laughs, good company, good food, and a chance to catch up and have your picture taken with your favorite FCTV Staff Member. What could be more fun that?

And finally, FCTV Member Susan Robertson recently moved to California to be closer to her children. I think I speak for everyone here at FCTV when I say thank you to Susan for her years of service and dedication to our organization. Her Monday night routine before directing Totally Trivia was legendary before I got here and anyone that got a chance to work with her knows what a joy she is to be around. Good luck Susan in your new adventure and know that you're always welcome back here at the homestead anytime.

So as you can see, there's plenty happening at the studio. Drop in, say hello, wander around, enjoy the view, talk sports, take a class. If you need anything, remember to just come in and ask - my door is always open. Yes, I said it's open.

I have been a Chairman of the Falmouth Bikeways Committee since the late 1980’s. In the early 1990’s, I happened to hear that Adelphia had a local TV station, Channel 13, who could train me to make a TV show about the Shining Sea Bikeway. I took the TV production course and found I really liked to make TV shows. There were just a few producers at the time and I started working as crew, directing, and producing shows. Matt Servis, Adelphia’s teenage production coordinator, was an enthusiastic and excellent teacher, and I quickly became proficient in TV productions. Matt is now the facilities manager for the ABC and the Fox TV stations in Burlington, VT. I found that live studio shows were the easiest, since they require just about no editing. I started directing a weekly astrology call in show, and David Oshman’s weekly “Falmouth to Falmouth”. David’s show ran for years until he moved to Pennsylvania. Of course David has recently returned to Falmouth and “Falmouth to Falmouth” is again on the air. I also produced and/or directed Town Meeting, Falmouth Christmas Parade, Falmouth Road Race, First Night, Highfield Hall, Candidate Nights, American Sign Language Instruction Series, Historical Society Lecture Series, “Imagine” a variety show at Cape Cod Community College, and a multitude of studio, field, road case and van shows. I would guess I have done more than 400 productions at FCTV.

Adelphia was required by franchise to operate the channel 13 public access station, and they did so without much enthusiasm and little outreach. The station consisted of the present main studio, and everything else was upstairs above the present control room. Adelphia’s business office had the entire downstairs. Mort Maser, Bob Rice, and other visionaries realized that channel 13 could do so much more for the community. They worked with the Town to form Falmouth Community Television (FCTV), a Non Profit Corporation to operate channel 13.

John Donovan was our first Executive Director, who now works at Cambridge Community Television. I was one of the 7 original members of FCTV. FCTV’s present Maser Art Gallery, offices, edit facilities, and playback was originally a wide open ladies exercise gym.

FCTV has flourished since its beginning and has become an important part of life in Falmouth. Bob Hinrichs started taping Selectmen’s Meetings and changed the way government is conducted in Falmouth. Falmouth citizens are now more knowledgeable, informed, and involved. Since the Selectmen’s Meetings became live, citizens including me have rushed down to Town Hall to speak on issues we deemed important. Our producers want to give back to the community, and the shows reflect the pride we have in Falmouth.

I got together with the United Way and started the weekly one hour live call in show “Falmouth Alive,” which gave United Way agencies, non profits, and government service agencies a forum to tell their stories. The United Way dropped out in the first year, but we continued the show for many years. Of all the productions I have done, I am most proud of the “Falmouth Alive” series.

FCTV has come a long way. We started with ¾ inch tape, moved to SVHS tape, and we are now into state of the art digital equipment with no tape at all. Our cablecast shows are being streamed on the Internet. In the coming months we will have a wireless TV capability. FCTV has become a full partner and an important member of the Town of Falmouth. FCTV is a true Communication Center for the Community. I think FCTV’s greatest asset is it members who work together to make Falmouth a better place, and we have fun doing it.

Well, I am still a member of the Bikeways Committee, but I have yet to do a show on the Shining Sea Bikeway.

Remember, Public Access TV is about the only way a private citizen can exercise their First Amendment Right of Free Speech in the electronic media.
