VETERAN PRODUCERS

Refresher courses at FCTV are for you!

This winter, existing producers will have the opportunity to enhance, widen or practice their skills in several areas of video production.

On January 8th, we'll be offering another of our on-going series on documentary production. The focus for this coming session will be "Shooting Your Interview".

On January 29th, we will offer a course focusing entirely on lighting for not only the studio, but the field as well.

On February 18th, it's our second three-hour Directing Workshop. This is geared not only to those who are new and recently certified in Basic Studio, but also to experienced producers as a way to get some practice and tips from both staff and your peers without the pressure of having to get something 'in the can' on the spot.

We hope you'll consider joining us for any or all three sessions as a way to enhance or polish your own skills, but also to meet and network with some of your fellow FCTV member producers.

To sign up please call Tony at 508-457-0800 or email tony@fctv.org
